Summary

First and foremost, I love writing code. Ever since writing my first program in Java to output 'Hello World'. I believe in the power of programming to transform and improve the lives of people around the world. In school, I was taught Java and C# but from the very first day of my college when I came to know about Python, since then there is no going back. How cool it is! Also, the curiosity of how websites work lead me to learn front-end web development, which helped grasping my first professional opportunity, I built a small start up's website.

I love applying responsive design principles and watching my web pages shrink into mobile screens and still look amazing. It's oddly satisfying. I think in a way I'm kind of like those web pages; I'm moldable, but I still keep my creative flare intact.

My specialities include quickly learning new skills and programming languages, problem solving, responsive design principles and website optimization. So far I have HTML, JavaScript, CSS, Python, SQL, JQuery, Bootstrap and Git/GitHub under my belt. I've started learning Node.JS, React, MongoDB. Also, I'm enthusiastically grabbing more of Python by making projects and seeking interest in DataScience.
